OPENING OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL CENTENNIAL AT PHILADELPHIA.

Two Hundred Thousand Visitors Crowded Into the Quaker City—A Magnificent Street Parade—A Reviewing Stand Gives Way With Fatal Results—Notes.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—To-day, the day fixed for the opening of the celebration of the Constitutional Centennial, dawned bright and clear after a week of fog, rain and threatening weather. The streets were crowded at an early hour with the hundreds of thousands of guests who have come to participate in or witness the ceremonies attending the celebration. Visitors, military and firemen have been pouring into the city all day. The railroads have been taxed to their utmost in accommodating the crowds which are flocking into the city. Every hotel is filled to overflowing and some of the guests spent last night as best they could in improvised beds. Every inch of space was filled with cots and other means of temporary rest to accommodate the overflow.

The lowest calculation places the number of visitors at 200,000. Nearly every state and territory is represented. The buildings of the city, both public and private, are profusely decorated with flags and bunting and the city presents a gala appearance.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the civic and industrial pageant started from Broad and Dauphin streets and marched to Broad and Moore streets, a distance a little over four miles, and then counter-marched to the starting point. Along the route a continuous line of observation stands have been erected, and these were filled at an early hour by thousands who had paid for the privilege. Thousands of others lined the sidewalks while the windows of the buildings and stoops were packed with people.

North Broad street was almost impassable. So dense was the crowd that had gathered in that thoroughfare as early as 7 o'clock and the efforts of the police to keep a passage clear were almost futile. This magnificent thoroughfare had been transformed into an immense amphitheater by the combined efforts of the carpenters and decorators, who had been busily engaged throughout the night erecting and decorating stands on both sides of the street. There was hardly a house along the whole street that was not decorated with flags and bunting. Many buildings displayed heroic statues of Columbia, surrounded by flags of all nations. Odd Fellows hall had a banner across its front with the inscription: "Spot where Franklin drew lightning from the clouds in 1752." Busts of Washington were mounted in front of some houses decorated with the National emblem.

The crush on some of the stands was so great that several women fainted.

Three triumphal arches span Broad and Chestnut streets. The principal one is erected in front of the Lafayette hotel almost opposite the main reviewing stand, which will be occupied by the presidential party upon their arrival. The other two arches are about thirty feet high. On the summit of one are the busts of Washington, Lincoln, Grant and Cleveland. The decorations that attract more than passing interest are those on the buildings of the Young Men's Democratic association, the Adair Express company, the Lafayette hotel, the Union League club, the Catholic club, the St. George hotel and the newly organized art club.

The scene at the grand stand opposite the Union League club house, on Broad street, was a beautiful one. The stands on either side of Broad street were filled with people and the gay colors worn by ladies and children lent additional beauty to the scene.

At 10:25 a telegram flashed over the temporary telegraph line, constructed along the route of the procession, announcing that the parade had started. Just at that moment Governor Beaver rode up in his carriage, and was heartily cheered.

About 11 o'clock the distinguished guests, the governors, foreign ministers and others began to pour into their assigned places. As the different governors in passing to their places were recognized they were heartily applauded.

The Constitutional Centennial commission was officially represented by Hon. John A. Kasson, president; Hon. Amos R. Little, chairman of the executive committee; Hampton L. Carson, secretary; F. C. C. Brewster, Jr., corresponding secretary, and Assistant Secretary Black, who occupied seats on the front of the grand stand.

Section A, the centennial position of the states, with their staffs. Among the governors present were: Sawyer, of New Hampshire; Briggs, of Delaware; Green, of New Jersey; Larrabee, of Iowa; Gordon, of Georgia, and Beaver, of Pennsylvania. On this stand were also senators and representatives in congress, thirty-three commissioners from the various states and territories, the diplomatic corps, the foreign guests.

Section B was occupied by the distinguished visitors representing the various religious demonstrations and political parties. There were three sections in the grand stand, the estimated seating capacity of which was 4,000. Two tiers of boxes have been erected in front of the Bellevue hotel, directly in front of the stand. These are beautifully decorated.

The head of the procession, led by a cordon of police on horseback, reached the city hall, at Broad and Market streets, at 11:42. There was an immense crowd of people at this point, and it was with the greatest difficulty the police cleared a passage. The officers succeeded in making way for the procession in time to prevent any stoppage. The pageant went around the west side of the city hall and passed the grand reviewing stand at Walnut street. An Indian band of nineteen pieces and nine platoons of Indian cadets, who marched in remarkably good step, was one of the features of the parade. As they passed the reviewing stand they were repeatedly cheered.

The civic and industrial parade, illustrating the advancement of industrial arts and sciences during the century, eclipsed anything of the kind ever known. Floats to the number of three hundred—each bearing a representation of some particular branch of industry—were in line; one hundred and fifty bands of music, 12,000 men and 3,000 horses.

Col. A. L. Snowden, the chief marshal, rode at the head of the procession, accompanied by his staff, numbering fifty aides, a standard bearer and two trumpeters. Next came the United States Marine band, followed by a beautiful banner representing Columbia pointing to the past with one hand and the present with the other. The former was represented by old implements and conditions and the latter by those of to-day. The banner was drawn on a car attached to which were six horses.

The parade from this point was divided into twenty-three divisions, each under the charge of an assistant marshal and his aides. The first division was headed by the Patriotic Order of the Sons of America. This body made a beautiful display. A gaily decorated wagon bearing banners, inscribed with appropriate mottoes, came first, followed by a band and a number of tableaux on floats, typical of the great events of the revolution and representing the people of the different nations, which make up the population of this country. These were costumed in the garb of their native countries.

A handsomely decorated temple, with thirty-eight ladies at the portal, representing the states of the union, Uncle Sam, the Goddess of Liberty and the thirteen original states, represented by the Daughters of America in costume, and a float on which stood representations of the school houses of to-day and there of the days of the nation's infancy, surrounded by school children, were next in line. The remainder of the division was made up of the National and state officers, and the visiting camps of the Sons of America in full regalia.

The Carpenters' company, of Philadelphia, the oldest industrial association in the country, comprised the second division. This association was incorporated over 150 years ago. The feature of the displays by this division was a miniature Grecian temple, containing thirteen Corinthian columns, representing the original thirteen states. This is a duplicate of the original exhibit of the Carpenters' company in the parade of the year 1778, which commemorated the adoption of the Federal constitution.

Following this was a float bearing the temple of the Grecian Doric order, intended to be emblematic of the present grand union of states. On each column was a shield bearing the name of each state. The members of the Carpenters' company followed in carriages.

The third division was devoted to a display of agricultural implements of ancient and present times. Next came a representation of the flouring mills of 1740 and 1874, and an illustration of the present mode of manufacturing flour.

The Typographical fraternity made up the fourth division. Illustrations of the different modes of printing were given. This division displayed a tableau of the well known engraving, "The First Proof." A float on which was given an illustration of the manner of making type in olden days and that of the present followed. Next came a number of floats containing ancient and modern presses. Then followed a display by the paper trade.

Division five consisted of delegations from the various educational institutes of the United States. This division was headed by the University of Pennsylvania. The Indian training school was represented in this division, several mounted Indians from the west rode at the head of this procession.

Division six comprised the building trades. Every branch of that industry was represented.

Division seven was a representation of saw, engine and tool works.

Division eight was composed of the Old Volunteer Firemen's association. Twenty-three visiting companies were in this division.

The brewers made up the ninth division and division ten was devoted to the exhibition of the coinage of money by the United States mint representatives, and the workings of the mint.

The Knights of the Golden Eagle, 5,000 strong, made up the eleventh division.

The twelfth division was a display of the products of the textile industry.

The thirteenth division was taken up by a display of the silk industry.

The clothing trade comprised the fourteenth division.

The fifteenth division was a display by Pennsylvania Railroad company, showing the progress made in the mode of traveling.

The progress of the shipping industry was displayed in the sixteenth division.

The seventeenth division comprised the government display. Models of the first steamer that ever crossed the Atlantic and the old man-of-war were displayed in this division, and also models of a number of other vessels.

Division eighteen was a display by the Electric Light companies.

Divisions nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two and twenty-three were made up of civil societies and displays by miscellaneous trades. In one of the last named divisions, the carriage formerly used by George Washington, was drawn along by six white horses.

A Reviewing Stand Gives Way.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—A reviewing stand at Broad and Moor streets gave way under the tremendous weight of people upon it shortly after the parade started this morning. There was a scene of indescribable confusion, women shrieking and children crying, while men sought to fight their way out of the struggling mass of humanity. Three persons were killed outright, and seventy-five more or less injured.

John Sherman at Wilmington.

WILMINGTON, O., Sept. 16.—Senator Sherman arrived in this city this morning and was escorted to the West house by a procession composed of bands, the county committee, the Sherman club and citizens in carriages. The fair grounds were largely attended this afternoon, and he was loudly cheered on ascending to the platform where he spoke for an hour and a half, warmly endorsing Governor Foraker and the Republican campaign in Ohio.

Honduras is All Right.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Jacob Balze, consul general of Honduras, has received news by cable from Tegucigalpa, capital of the republic of Honduras, that President Luis Bogran has been re-elected with no opposition of any consequence. The republic is in perfect peace and order.

CONDEMNED ANARCHISTS.

HOW THEY SPENT THE FIRST NIGHT AFTER THE FINAL DECISION.

They Write, Read and Finally Sleep Soundly—How Nina Van Zandt Received the News That Her Lover Must Hang. Her Most Ranting on the Decision.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—August Spies was the first one of the condemned Anarchists to receive the news of the final decision of the supreme court at Ottawa, that the decision of the lower court was affirmed and that they should be executed on November 11. The turnkey who took the dispatch to cell 25, and showed it through the bars, lingered a moment to watch the effect it would have on Spies. The arch Anarchist took the message, glanced firmly at the turnkey, and then withdrew to the darker end of the cell. In two minutes or so, he called gently to the old man who sits at death watch outside his barred door, and asked him to hand the yellow telegraph sheet to Parsons. From him it went to all the others, and at last reached Nebe, who is under sentence of imprisonment.

Newspaper men had been rigorously shut out from the condemned men, and all observations had to be taken from the outside of the cage, about ten yards from the cell door. It could be dimly seen that each of the condemned men made ostentatious efforts at coolness and bravado. They took seats at the cell doors and read newspapers and books, smoked cigars, and once Ling, the bomb maker, whistled.

The force of deputy sheriffs who guarded all the approaches was increased last night, and they were supplemented by relays of uniformed police. All unknown to even the curious pedestrians who peered around the precincts of the jail, the streets and alleys on all sides for several blocks were quietly patrolled by detectives, who sized up all suspicious looking stragglers and kept a watchful eye on all little knots that gathered anywhere in the neighborhood of the jail. The Anarchists of the city are so well known that none of them could get through the outposts without being detected.

Within the jail all was still as death. Parsons, apparently worn out with excitement of the day, retired early. Spies tugged nervously at his thin mustache and wearily passed his hand over his brow as he paused every now and then in his writing, and threw down his pen. He seemed ill at ease, and his thoughts were evidently far away from his narrow cell. Fischer and Schwab wrote steadily for hours, and Sam Fielden whiled away his dreariness with a repur of the crushing news that the morning had brought him.

Chief Deputy Gleason visited the jail, and after satisfying himself that everything was right within, carefully inspected the guards outside. The Anarchists were all asleep shortly after midnight and slept until quite late this morning.

Mrs. A. R. Parsons, wife of the condemned Anarchist, says in relation to the decision of the supreme court that she does not believe the people will permit what she calls "this judicial murder." She says: "These men could have been hanged when the jury found them guilty. At that time the world would have permitted it, but not now. The people of America will not allow it. I have faith in the American spirit of fair play and justice, and that will not allow these men to be hanged."

"What if they are hanged anyway?" "Well, if they are hanged—," she paused, looked out of a window, and tapped her foot on the carpet. "If they are hanged, why, the revolution is so much nearer at hand. And what does a revolutionist care for death?"

A reporter called at the residence of Nina Van Zandt last night, but she declined to discuss the decision. Her eyes were red with weeping, and she appeared almost heart broken at the news that her lover, August Spies, was condemned to die on the gallows.

"Miss Van Zandt has lived very quietly of late," said one of the neighbors. "I think she has had very little hope for some time. I don't know what she will do now. She will count herself a widow, of course, if the execution takes place. If her conduct has seemed against common sense, why, it is all accounted for—she loves him."

HERR MOST FURIOUS.

Friends of the Condemned Men "Must Show Their Military Strength."

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The news of the affirmation by the supreme court of Illinois of the decision of the lower court in the case of the condemned Chicago Anarchists caused great excitement among New York Socialists and Anarchists. Herr Most was furious. His Anarchist paper, the Freiheit, had just gone to press when the news came. The forms were ordered from the press. Most posted a notice saying that he could not be interviewed, and that the paper would be published containing an editorial on the matter. Most rolled up his sleeves and proceeded to write an editorial addressed "To the workmen of all countries." The editorial was a column and a half long. He characterized the judges who made the decision as "infamous and bloodthirsty fools," and the jury as corrupt. November 11 was the day set for the murder of the "heretics." The capitalists wished to see blood flow to show the people that they were the law and could do as they pleased. "Workmen," says he, "will you peaceably allow this to take place? Allow the punishment of the representatives who have identified themselves with your cause—these ideals of your class? He asks that no stone be thrown to assist the condemned. The sacrifice would strengthen the cause. The condemned men were the evangelists who had preached to the workmen. The cruel deed of November 11 could be prevented if the Anarchists so wished. Workmen must show their military strength." An indignation mass-meeting must be held at once and money raised to fight the battle of justice and the salvation of the martyrs. Most goes on to demand a decision in the case from the United States supreme court, and says that agitation meetings should be held all over the country until the court dare declare the law constitutional. The editorial closes with the following appeal:

"The question of their bloodshed is not settled yet. Let every one do his duty and it never will be. Life to the soldiers! hail the social revolution."

Editor E. S. Schevitch, of the Leader, the recognized leader of the Socialistic element in this city, fiercely denounced the affirmation of the verdict. He said that as the principal in the crime had not been apprehended, it was impossible to say what motive actuated the man to throw the bomb. And it could not be asserted that the condemned man had any connection with the killing of the policeman. A mass-meeting will be held in Union Square next Monday night to protest against the hanging of the condemned men.

THE NEW YORK REPUBLICANS.

They Nominate Col. Fred. Grant to Head Their State Ticket.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 16.—The Republican state convention reassembled at 4 o'clock, and the convention proceeded with the nominations. Hon. William M. Everts submitted the name of Col. Fred. D. Grant for secretary of state, and he was nominated by acclamation. The other nominations were as follows: Judge Jesse S. Lamoreaux, of Saratoga county, for comptroller; James H. Carmichael, of Erie, for treasurer; James A. Dennison, of Fulton, for attorney general; O. H. P. Cornell, for state engineer and surveyor.

The platform states that the Republicans seek the restoration of power in the state and nation where it has been so inefficiently administered. It favors the protection of American artisans and their products and approves civil service reform. President Cleveland is "scored" for his pension vetoes, and immigration is not wanted unless those coming into the country are honest toilers. On the liquor question, over which a small dispute arose, the platform reads:

"We heartily endorse the purpose of the Republican majority in the legislature in passing the bills to limit and restrict the liquor traffic, and we condemn the vetoes of the governor as hostile to that purpose. We recommend comprehensive and efficient legislation for giving local option by counties, towns and cities, and restriction by taxation in such localities as do not, by their option, exclude absolutely the traffic."

Some of Governor Hill's vetoes are also objected to, and the manufacture of imitations of butter, etc., should be licensed so as to protect the dairy product. Gladstone, Farnoll and others are highly commended.

A minority report on the liquor plank was defeated, 515 to 136. It held that the party opposed legislation making a distinction in beverages, but recognized the right to punish intemperance. A license plank was also defeated.

BABBIT'S SLAYER.

His Preliminary Examination Results in His Release on $800 Bond.

EATON, O., Sept. 16.—The preliminary examination of Joseph McBride, accused of murdering John Babbitt, was held yesterday afternoon before the mayor of Eaton. A number of witnesses were examined in addition to the examination of the accused. Few facts additional to those already published were adduced.

A Miss Vore, of Richmond, Ind., who was visiting at McBride's, testified that Babbitt, the deceased, spent Sunday evening, September 11, as well as the evening of Monday, at McBride's residence in company with Mrs. McBride.

It was further in evidence that a relative of the accused had seen Mrs. McBride in company with the deceased at West Alexandria on Saturday afternoon, and on Sunday McBride's relative drove to Dayton to meet McBride, and informed him that Mrs. McBride and Babbitt were together.

McBride, instead of going to Greenville as he had intended to do, returned home and spent Sunday night at the residence of his relative, near his own home. Monday night at 10 o'clock he went to his own residence, and from the exterior overheard Babbitt and Mrs. McBride in conversation in her bedroom, in the dark. Excited beyond measure, he went to a neighbor, procured a double-barrelled shotgun, returned and killed Babbitt.

The recital of the facts and circumstances surrounding the tragedy and the parties connected with it was very affecting, and at times scarcely a dry eye was to be found in the large audience. At the close of the hearing Mayor Marsh reduced the charge and let McBride go on $800 bond. Forty-five of McBride's wealthy citizens volunteered as bondsmen, amid the applause of the crowd which had assembled to hear the proceedings.

The Interstate Commerce Commission.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 16.—At the session of the interstate commerce commission this morning, evidence was heard in the case of the Board of Trade Unions, of Owatonna, Northfield, Faribault and Dundas vs. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad company. These towns are on the Iowa and Minnesota division of the road and the rate charged to Chicago is fifteen cents, towns on the river division have a seven and a half rate, and the point at issue was as to whether this was not unreasonable and discriminating. Testimony was concluded and argument will be submitted in twenty days. In the case of W. N. Smith vs. The Northern Pacific, testimony was concluded and argument will be submitted to-morrow. The point at issue is as to whether a land grant road for the purpose of settling its unoccupied lands, may make special rates to land explorers and actual settlers. The commission has received a long protest against the abolition of car load rates from a committee representing nearly all the business centers in the Upper Mississippi and the Missouri valleys.

Dangerously Hurt.

NEWARK, O., Sept. 16.—A. M. Cooper, who resides just east of this city, was thrown from a buggy to-day and dangerously hurt.

Death of Hiram Davis.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 16.—H. W. Davis, the well known carriage manufacturer, died last night at his home, 155 York street, of cancer of the liver.

A Baptist Church Burned.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Sept. 16.—The Baptist church at Hartford, this county, burned yesterday. Loss $2,500.

BRIDAY EVE., SEPT. 16, 1887.

The Rowan feud seems to be spreading. The State officials are becoming involved.

The Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette can see no good in what the Democratic administration is doing for the country. This is not to be wondered at, at all.

J. HALE SYMPER is attempting to try the Carlisle-Thobe contested election case in the newspapers. It is a poor lawyer, indeed, who argues his case outside of the court room.

It is reported from Morehead that the good citizens of that place are greatly encouraged at the present outlook, and better times are expected. It is to be hoped the report is true.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "If there was ever a man who personally knew Luke P. Blackburn, of Kentucky, and did not like him, his name has not come to our attention."

The Republicans of New York have nominated Colonel Fred Grant for Secretary of State. They may learn by the time the campaign closes and the ballots are counted that Freddie is not near as popular as his illustrious pa was.

The first pardon granted by Governor Buckner was to an ex-Federal soldier, notwithstanding the statement of the Louisville Commercial to the contrary. The fact that the pardoned criminal was an ex-Federal, however, cut no figure in the case.

The Standard Oil monopoly has been laid in the shade by the "Cattle Trust," recently organized by Steve Dorsey and crowd. The capital of the concern is represented by millions of head of cattle valued at $250,000,000, and the value of real estate in the pool is even greater.

The last hasn't been heard of those rifles belonging to Colonel Z. T. Young that were captured at Morehead during the last term of court. The statement is now made that the Montgomery County grand jury will indict Captain McPherson, of the State Guards, for defying the civil authorities at Mt. Sterling in refusing to obey the order of delivery and turn over the rifles to the Sheriff of that county.

COLONEL Z. T. YOUNG, it is said, has entered suit against Governor Buckner, General Castleman and Governor Knott for forcibly detaining and holding property not theirs, and the suit will be put to an issue at an early day, and promises to bring forth some interesting results. The property referred to is the Winchester rifles which were captured at Morehead during the last term of court, and which are now at Frankfort.

J. HALE SYMPER, attorney for Thobe in the latter's contest for Speaker Carlisle's place in Congress, is being laughed at at Washington for his process of Syphering out his client's election. He publishes a long letter in the Washington Post in which he argues that Thobe was elected because he received more votes in 1886 than Carlisle did in 1882. What an absurdity! Mr. Thobe ought to tell his lawyer that Carlisle's vote in 1882 has nothing to do with the case.

The wrangling in Ohio over the question of mixed schools is as bad and as loud as one would find in the South. Mixed schools ought never to be thought of. As a class, the negroes, themselves, are opposed to the move. Give them good schools to themselves and they are satisfied. The Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette is moved to remark that "while there is wrangling in Ohio over the application of black children for admission to schools for white pupils, we can not consistently complain of our Southern friends for their race prejudices and discriminations."

Our contemporary, the Republican, has lately been manifesting quite an interest in the political affairs of Louisville, and expresses its belief that the Republicans have a fair chance to win at the approaching election. Great minds will differ, however, as may be seen by a perusal of the Louisville Commercial. Commenting on the action of the Republicans of that city in nominating a candidate for Mayor, the Commercial says: "No matter who is chosen he will lead a forlorn hope. The very strongest men in the party are opposed to drawing party lines in municipal elections. There is widespread dissatisfaction over the course pursued by the politicians and it will end in an emphatic protest at the polls."

Politics and Prosperity.

The New York Tribune is getting sick of its own medicine. The general prosperity of trade, threatened only by excessive taxation, is so displeasing to the Tribune that it bursts out after this fashion:

"The old fashioned Democrat who condemned the Whig national Administration of his day because there were no eels in the eel-pots that year has some imitators in the men who attribute ever sign of national prosperity to the wisdom of President Cleveland's Administration."

For twenty years the Republican press and Republican conventions have "claimed" that it was the Republican party which was paying the public debt, providing pensions for the soldiers, attending to the crops, and nursing our infant industries, all without any assistance from Democrats.

Now a change comes. The Democrats are in charge of affairs, and at once the Tribune insists on altering its old phrases and exposing its former false pretenses. At any rate, our Republican contemporaries must admit that a Democratic Administration has not brought the nation to the brink of ruin.—Courier-Journal.

State Revenue.

Under the excellent provisions of the new Revenue law, $1,345,820.01 has been paid into the State Treasury by Sheriffs, on the taxes of 1887, since the 1st of September. Of this amount the school fund receives $623,327.16, sinking fund, $141,665.26, and A. and M. College, $14,168.53, leaving for the maintenance of our charitable institutions, pauper idiots, harmless lunatics, criminal prosecutions, and the many other demands upon the treasury, $566,661.06.

SOMERSET, Ky., is just now the scene of a warm fight over the liquor question. A local option law went into effect the other day. Since then a distiller has moved to the town from Rockcastle County and avows his intention of selling whisky. He claims that as a distiller he has a right to sell in quantities not less than a quart at his residence, and expects to sell openly and above board. This action has excited the indignation of the temperance people to a white-heat, and there is work ahead for the officers and lawyers.

The Paris, Georgetown and Frankfort Railroad Company has asked a subscription of $150,000 from Bath County, and the Court of Claims will convene at Owingsville on the 29th of this month to submit the proposition to the voters of that county. Although there is considerable opposition to the tax the proposition will doubtless carry by a handsome majority. One-third of the subscription is to be paid when the road is built from Frankfort to one mile of Owingsville, one-third when it reaches a point nine miles further east, and the balance when the road is completed and trains running on it to the eastern boundary line of the county.

The Union Pacific Railroad's main track is 1,834 miles long, with branches 2,761 miles long. Including the land grant, the concern is worth $220,368,247. "All this vast property in justice belongs to the Government of the United States," says the Louisville Times, "but it is in the hands of sharks, who openly nullify an act of Congress requiring them to set apart a small portion of the road's earnings as a sinking fund to pay some of the interest due the Government. The Central Pacific and the Sioux City roads are corporations of less magnitude, that have robbed the tax-payers on the same plan that the Union Pacific pursued—that is, exercising ownership over property that cost the companies nothing."

Pithy Points From Washington.
Will any man undertake to show that it will be to the interest of a single individual, except those engaged in the sale or manufacture of rum, to longer continue this iniquity among us?

We affirm that the whisky traffic is a constant menace to all that is good in any community, and that it will be to the highest interest of all to forever do away with it.

Would it not be a desirable thing to have all the places in towns and cities now used by the whisky people changed into school houses, churches, &c.

The people who sell whisky, as well as those who drink it, are alike a drawback to any community, and there is no place on the face of the earth but would be better off were neither of them ever heard of.

If the cholera, small-pox or plague were among us, we are of the opinion the people would not be long getting clear of them if they could vote them out.

Now the rum evil is a much greater one than either of these, and has been the death of thousands more people. You are called upon to say whether or not it shall be continued among us.

"I Feel so Well."

"I want to thank you for telling me of Dr. Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription,' writes a lady to her friend. 'For a long time I was unfit to attend to the work of my household. I kept about, I felt thoroughly miserable. I had terrible backaches, and bearing-down sensation across me and was quite weak and discouraged. I sent and got some of the medicine after receiving your letter, and it has cured me. I hardly know myself. I feel so well.'"

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

The C. H. & D. in Court.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 16.—The suit for the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, brought by George K. Duckworth, came up for hearing in the Butler county common pleas court, at Hamilton, Wednesday. Counsel for the railroad moved to dismiss the case, claiming the court had no jurisdiction. Judge Van Derveer overruled the motion. The defense filed a lengthy answer to the suit, admitting Henry S. Ives and George H. Stayner had abused their trusts, and had misappropriated large sums of money, but they urged that these men are no longer officers, and that the present officials are honest. It is denied that C. C. Waite's salary as vice president and general manager was increased from $5,000 to $25,000 in one year, but that his salary was increased from $15,000 to $25,000 to keep him from accepting a call to another road. The answer then goes on to show the healthy condition of the road as the principal reason for not appointing a receiver. A protest was also filed from stockholders of the road representing 48,741 shares against any interference with the present management of the road and expressing complete confidence in the directors.

Terrorizing Toughs.

NICHOLASVILLE, Ky., Sept. 16.—Dick Crackett and George Crutcher are at the head of a gang of toughs who are now terrorizing the west end of Jessamine. Recently they went to the farm house of Ed Vaughn, an industrious and successful man, and called him out, firing at him. He returned the shots. The next day they shot his cow and then some of his hogs were shot. He had them indicted by the grand jury, but the sheriff has not yet arrested them on the bench warrant. They somehow got wind that Vaughn had indicted them, and yesterday they raided him again, and he came to town for protection of the law. The sheriff and deputies were out of town and he feared to return, as he was apprehensive of danger, that they would either kill him or burn his property, both of which threats were communicated to him. Vaughn is not afraid of them, but is a law-abiding citizen. When he found he would have to rely upon himself he went home, determined to give them the best fight he could.

A Novel Festival.

SIoux CITY, Sept. 16.—Great preparations are being made for the corn palace and grand harvest jubilee festival to be held here from October 3 to 5 inclusive. The corn palace is a handsome square structure with a large tower in the center and a smaller one at each corner. The entire surface of the building is handsomely veneered with sheafs of corn, each tower surmounted by a flagstaff, the center flag bearing the name of Sioux City and the corner towers flags with the names Iowa, Minnesota, Dakota and Nebraska respectively. On each side of the center tower a cornucopia is pouring out a bounteous harvest of grain and fruits.

Burglar Caught in the Act.

NICHOLASVILLE, Ky., Sept. 16.—Marshal Beard arrested John Scott, alias John Johnson, while in the act of burglarizing the dry goods house of R. E. Cannon Tuesday night. Johnson was tried and held over, and sent to jail. He recently came here from Knoxville, Tenn.

An Aged Couple Marry.

PERU, Ind., Sept. 16.—Grandfather John Gregory and Mrs. Mary Wheatley were married at Rochester last night. The happy couple are aged seventy-six and fifty-six respectively. They are well known here.

METHODIST MEETING.

Sixty-Seventh Annual Session of the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South.

REPORT OF THE PROCEEDINGS.

The sixty-seventh annual session of the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, convened at Scott Street Church in Covington last Wednesday morning, Bishop J. C. Granberry, of St. Louis, presiding.

Rev. J. H. Young, of Winchester, was chosen Secretary, and Rev. W. E. Arnold, of Richmond, Assistant Secretary.

A resolution was adopted fixing the business session of the conference from half-past eight to twelve o'clock in the morning. Standing committees were named as follows:

Public Worship—W. F. Taylor, E. L. Southgate and E. K. Tarvin.

Education—A. Redd, T. W. Hardy, W. W. Hiner, J. W. Stoten, C. Hough, J. S. Strma, D. A. Beardsley, T. P. Robertson, F. S. Pollitt, R. T. Head, J. J. Dickey, A. J. Ashbury.

Memorial—T. F. Tallaferro, R. Hiner, and R. Deering.

District Conference Records—H. G. Henderson, G. P. Pogue, T. T. Goody, G. W. Young, H. B. Cochran, William Drixon.

Books and Periodicals—J. N. Current, J. B. Jones, J. A. Sawyer, W. H. Barndale, D. P. Ware, Jacob Jacoby, T. S. Hubert, W. M. Kendel, A. W. Speer, N. B. Banta, D. W. Robertson, H. D. Gilles.

Temperance—J. H. Williams, A. G. Slicer, E. C. Savage, E. J. Levi, J. E. Wright, E. B. Rankin, V. B. Doughblle, D. Hackney, W. S. Grinstead, S. S. Myers, D. T. Hudson, J. W. Casselbine.

Bible Course—G. S. Savage, C. Hough, William Shoemith, F. K. Struve, F. H. Jackson, C. Pope, R. Hunt, C. Taylor, H. M. Winslow, W. B. Ragan, William Drexon, S. W. Peoples and C. Humphrey.

Widows' and Orphans' Home—J. A. Caywood, W. J. Roland, C. J. Nugent, W. H. Winter, A. J. Ashbury, J. Q. A. Vaught.

About two hundred ministers and laymen are in attendance. The session will last several days.

Last year nearly $200,000 was expended on missions, of which there are fifteen, employing one hundred and eighty-seven missionaries, one hundred and four native preachers, thirty-five teachers and thirty-one native helpers.

Dr. L. D. Palmer, of the publishing house at Nashville, reported that that institution was at last at free of debt. The first day's proceedings closed with a sermon by Rev. G. C. Kelley, of Frankfort.

A Successful Meeting.

Rev. Fred D. Hale will close the protracted meeting in the Baptist Church at Lewisburg to-night. The big basket meeting to-day will be largely attended. Mr. Hale preached this morning at 10:30 o'clock on "Baptism." This afternoon at 2 o'clock he will preach on "Communion" and at 7:30 o'clock this evening he will deliver a sermon to the young converts. The meeting has been highly successful, and the church is greatly revived. There were thirteen additions last night, making fifty-five to date.

New Packet Line Suggested.

The Augusta Republican suggests that the business men of Maysville, Ripley, Dover, Higginsport, Augusta, Ohio, Foster and New Richmond form a stock company and build two good boats to run in the Cincinnati and Maysville trade; one to leave Maysville every morning and the other to leave Cincinnati at the same hour.

The plan, we believe, is a good one, but the line should be extended to Portsmouth; one steamer to leave Portsmouth and one, Cincinnati every morning, passing Maysville at noon and making the entire trip in daylight.

Contemplated Improvements.

A number of improvements will soon be made by the Maysville Water Company. Messrs. Krieger and Cooper, President and Secretary of the company, were here yesterday from Louisville inspecting the property. They instructed Superintendent Schaeffer to meter the town, and when this is done consumers will have to pay for the quantity of water used, instead of at annual rates as at present.

A new pump will probably be put in and other improvements made.

There is also a probability that the mains will be extended to Chester some time during the next year.

CHARLES HORD, Harry Hord and Oliver Hord have each bought a small tract of land near Helena from Thomas Ball and L. C. Natas. The parties are all colored.

DR. JOHN S. HAYS will visit Cincinnati again to-day to consult the oculist who is treating his eye that was injured some time ago. It is improving steadily.

It is now stated that Dr. Logan, father of the Logan boys who were killed in Rowan County, will locate at Grange City, Fleming County, or at Wyoming, Bath County.

The Fleming Gazette says there is some prospect of a $25,000 damage suit against the town of Flemingsburg on account of the accident to the Pugh family, which resulted in the death of the daughter.

ARTICLES of incorporation of the J. C. Kerr Transportation Company have been left for record at Covington. Charles G. Boyd, S. A. Bryant and S. G. Hubbard are the incorporators. Capital stock, $20,000.

OWNERS of land up about Petersville, Lewis County, want $100 an acre since the alleged discovery of gold in that locality. They are digging for the precious metal at a number of points in the neighborhood.

It is reported at Cincinnati that I. C. Rawn, Assistant Train-Master of the Bee Line, with headquarters at Delaware, O., will be appointed Master of Transportation of the Kentucky Central road, the appointment to date from October 1st.

Mrs. ELLA McNUTT, who formerly lived in the West End, died at Portsmouth on the 7th of this month, of consumption. She was the daughter of James McNutt, who now lives on Lawrence Creek, and was twenty-seven years of age.

JAMES CHURCH, a blind man claiming Carlisle, Nicholas Co., as his home, turned up at Louisville the other day in a very destitute condition. He had managed in some manner to work his way to the "Falls City" to consult an oculist about treating his eyes.

WILL EVANS, who shot a negro named Sharpe near Mill Creek the other night, has not yet been arrested. It is thought Sharpe's wounds will prove fatal. Public feeling is with Evans, as the negro was at fault, having gone to Evans' house and raised a disturbance.

The natural gas well at Flemingsburg has not been abandoned yet. It is to be sunk to a depth of 1,800 or 2,000 feet. The depth heretofore attained is 1,332 feet, the drilling being stopped at that point by a vein of salt water. A geologist from Ohio says this salt water is a certain indication of oil or gas.

RIFFE & TAYLOR, successors to Riffe & Henderson, have a stock of drugs, medicines and chemicals at wholesale and retail. Pure wines and liquors. Toilet articles and stationery of every description. Sponges, chamois, face powders and perfumes, brushes, &c. Your patronage solicited. Prescriptions filled day and night.

Just when round trip tickets on the Kentucky Central are badly needed, the local passenger agents haven't any on hand. We are told the supply has been out for a week or more. It is a significant fact that the extremely low stage of water in the river has caused almost an entire suspension of navigation for about the same time. Perhaps the few dollars Huntington will pick up now by such action, will lose him him treble the amount hereafter.

ANOTHER bridal party were guests at Heiser's European Hotel yesterday. The groom was John Hanson, and the bride Miss Mary Hull, both of Bracken County. They were married at Aberdeen in the forenoon, and were accompanied by Eddie Johnson and Miley Hanson. At the dinner table they were the centre of attraction, as such crowds usually are, but the blushing bride and her attendant seemed totally unconscious of the admiring glances bestowed upon them by the numerous bachelor boarders at that popular hostelry.

The river is low, hardly any of the boats are running, and the citizen of Maysville who is called to Cincinnati now on business or pleasure has to pay full fare both ways on the Kentucky Central Railroad. The local agents' supply of round trip tickets has "given out." None have been on sale, we are told, for the past week. It seems strange that a fresh supply could not be gotten from headquarters at Covington in that time. The people are kicking, and will likely get even with the railroad company in the long run. Huntington should remember what Maysville and Mason County have done for his railroads.

CLERK WILLIAM WILLOCKS, of Heiser's European Hotel, was surprised yesterday when a woman stepped up to the desk and called for cigars for two. The worst feature of the affair was that she was a bride, having been married only a few hours before at Aberdeen. The genial-hearted clerk had been casting admiring glances at the fair bride, but when she called for the cigars "that settled it." She wanted "two-for-a-nick," one for her female attendant, but they don't sell that kind at Heiser's, so the attendant had to do without. The nicker, it is presumed, was a gift from the groom. Happy groom! May his bride never want for a cigar!

Personal.

E. O. Piles, of Cincinnati, was in town yesterday.

Miss Bessie Morgan is visiting Miss Carrie Smith at Walnut Hills, Cincinnati.

George Barcroft is visiting the family of Tone Ross, at Dulin's Hill, in Fleming County.

Miss Mamie Fitzgerald has returned from a visit of several weeks to relatives at Chicago.

Mrs. E. H. Eshom and daughter, Miss May, are visiting Mrs. J. D. Richmond, at Covington.

Miss Amy Phister has returned from a visit of several weeks to the family of Dr. Hannan, at Swan Creek, O.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Robertson are expected home from the White Mountains of Vermont by the last of this month.

DR. J. T. STROUD has been appointed Medical Examiner for this city of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. The order has 4,000 lodges in this country, with about 185,000 members. W. B. Moore, State Lecturer, whose arrival was noticed a few days ago will probably organize a lodge in this city.

The Knights of Pythias who went to Manchester yesterday afternoon returned this morning about 4 o'clock.

All "Played Out."

"Don't know what ails me lately. Can't eat well—can't sleep well. Can't work, and don't enjoy doing anything. Ain't really sick, and I really ain't well. Feel all kind o' played out, someway." That is what scores of men say every day. If they would take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" they would soon have no occasion to say it. It purifies the blood, tones up the system and fortifies it against disease. It is a great antibilious remedy as well.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free trial bottles of this standard remedy at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., at Aberdeen Ohio.

EX-GOVERNOR BLACKBURN is again reported in a very serious condition.

ROYAL
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 Wall St., New York.

TROUBLES OF LABOBERS.

TWO THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED MEN STRIKE AT PITTSBURG.

Roll Turners in a Rolling Mill Ask That Their Wages Be Three Dollars a Day, as Fixed By the Amalgamated Association. Effect of the Reading Concession.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 16.—All of the Amalgamated men, 2,500 in number, employed in the puddling, finishing and steel departments of Jones & Laughlin's mills, this city, quit work to-day on account of the refusal of the firm to advance the wages of fourteen roll turners to $3 per day, the price paid for the same work in other mills. The men on whose account the strike was inaugurated were making from $2.60 to $2.80 per day, but the scale of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers allows the roll turners $3 per day, and this price has never been paid by the firm, who still refuse to give the advance.

Small Operators Effected By the Reading. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 16.—The concessions made by the Reading Railroad company to their employees in the Schuylkill region, has caused the operators in the Lehigh region, whose miners are out on a strike to weaken and several of the small operations have asked for a conference with the strikers. The wealthy operators, such as Cote Bros. and Parlee & Co., will not surrender to the men under any circumstances, but the small operators cannot be so independent, and will have to pay the same wages as the Reading, or go out of the business.

Operators Have Not Paid.

NELSONVILLE, O., Sept. 16.—John McBride, president of the Miners' union, addressed a large mass meeting here last night. He advised the miners to resume work, as the operators have come to the scratch, and paid yesterday. The operators may have paid McBride for making this statement, but the miners have not yet received their pay for the latter part of August, and only have a promise of it September 17.

Fell Like a Bombshell.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—The state board of arbitration notified the striking furniture workers this noon that they must return to work if they desired the board to interfere in the case. The news fell like a bombshell in the camp of the strikers. Master Workman Sheldon immediately sent word to all the men that the strike was declared off.

KENTUCKY'S LOSS.

Death of Ex-Governor Luke P. Blackburn at Frankfort, Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 16.—Governor Luke P. Blackburn died at this place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Luke Pryor Blackburn was born in Fayette county, Kentucky, June 16, 1816. He was the son of Edward M. Blackburn, and his mother was the daughter of John Bell, who represented Fayette county in the first constitutional convention of Kentucky. He graduated in medicine at Transylvania university and began the practice of medicine, but in 1835, when the cholera broke out in Versailles, he went to that town, where he gave gratuitous service through the scourge. He represented Woodford county in the legislature in 1843, and in 1846 he removed to Natchez, Miss., where he amassed a competency by the practice of his profession. He became famous for his generous and devoted services in the yellow fever epidemic of 1848 and 1849, in hygienic measures for prevention and for the treatment of the disease. His first wife, Miss Ella G. Boswell, dying in 1857, he married Miss Julia M. Churchill, of Louisville, whom he met while on his travels in Europe. Returning from that country he located in New Orleans, and practiced medicine there until the civil war, in which he took an active part for the south. By request of the governor general of Canada he visited the Bermuda Islands for the relief of sufferers there, for which he received the grateful acknowledgment of the highest colonial authorities.

In 1867 he retired to his plantation in Arkansas, where he remained till 1873, when he returned to Kentucky. In 1878 he gave his whole services and time to the relief of sufferers from yellow fever at Hickman, Ky., and in 1879 was elected governor of Kentucky, being chosen almost unanimously by the Democratic state convention as the candidate of that party. He served four years, and his administration was noted for the free and his political enemies (for he had no other) claimed indiscriminate use of the pardoning power. At the expiration of his term of office he went to Louisville to live. While visiting his sister, Mrs. Flournoy, in Frankfort, some time ago, he became bedridden with the complication of diseases that carried him off, and at her home he died. It was charged that he sent infected clothing to the north during the war for the purpose of spreading yellow fever and small pox among the soldiers, but those who knew the goodness of his heart never for a moment believed such a thing. He was greatly beloved by Kentuckyans.

The funeral of ex-Governor Blackburn will take place from the Episcopal church to-morrow at 11 a. m. The pallbearers are Charles Green, Willis Ringo, James W. Tate, F. W. Hardin, Fayette Hewitt, E. W. Hines, H. B. Ware, H. C. Murray, Lawrence Tobin, Thomas Corbett, J. D. Pickett, E. H. Taylor, Jr., Col. Mat. Adams, William Lindsay and G. W. Craddock, of Frankfort, Ky.; H. A. Tippler, of Hickman county; ex-Governor Knott, Lieutenant Governor Bryan, ex-Lieutenant Governor Cantrell, J. H. Whalen, J. G. Simrall and R. H. Thompson, of Louisville; James Flannigan, of Winchester, Ky. The offices will be closed by a proclamation of Acting Governor Bryan.

FEARFULLY BURNED.

Probable Fatal Accident at "Home Under Nero," Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 16.—A distressing and probably fatal accident occurred at the presentation of "Home Under Nero" last night. The victim is Eddie Hayes, a thirteen-year-old boy, living at the corner of Kemper lane and Eastern avenue, and employed by Thomas Gunn, the property man.

During the burning of Home young Hayes was standing in Nero's palace, where he had just lighted a large pan of red fire. He carried in his hand a large bowl of explosive matter, which was used as a flash, and which he was to fire off at a given signal. After lighting the pan of red fire, young Hayes stepped back. As he did a spark from the pan reached the explosive. There was a flash and the boy was in a second enveloped in fire. He fell to the stage with a shriek. His clothing had caught fire and was burning when assistance reached him. As quickly as possible the fire was extinguished, and the victim carried to the rear of the stage. Dr. Taylor, who happened to be present, rendered all the assistance in his power to the little sufferer. It was found that he was frightfully burned about the arms, face and head, and it is feared that he inhaled some of the flame. If this is the case, his death will be but the matter of a few hours.
